

Main data table with multiple columns containing financial and operational information, including various codes, dates, and numerical values.

Large table with 26 columns (A-Z) and many rows, containing detailed financial data, likely a monthly or quarterly report, with sub-headers for different periods and metrics.